

Stewart, The Summer of 1787, Chaptr 15
Wesley Advocates 14 May 2017

When and in what form did Rutledge's committee present their draft?
How did delegates react initially?

What is Stewart's sheepdog metaphor? Of whom does he speak? How apt do you find the metaphor?

Why does Rutledge express concern about time and the need to hurry the Constitution?

Describe the purpose of the Committee on Postponed Parts.

How did delegates select members of various committees? How might specific membership affect a committee's work? Cite an example or two.

What caused dissension amongst Maryland's delegates—Carroll, Jenifer, Martin, McHenry, and Mercer?

Once the Maryland delegates agreed to several proposals to modify the Rutledge draft, what happened to those proposals, particularly regarding money bills and navigation laws?

What do we learn about delegates' concerns for age, property ownership, and citizenship requirements? Why is James Wilson an important figure in this debate? What are those requirements now?

Describe the delegates' concerns about Congress's issuing paper money. What happened?

What significance lies in the calls for "experience" and "reason," particularly during this historical period?